July 2017

Metro, ATU Local 689, and IBT Local 922 take close calls seriously. Metro has approved the below safety actions to address concerns from employees who have made confidential reports directly to the Bureau of Transportation Statistics (BTS). These action items are tracked internally to ensure completion and ongoing compliance.

Employee Concern: No formal written procedure regarding Lock-Out/Tag-Out (LOTO)

Although there is a common practice taught during Power Training courses, no formal LOTO procedure is written. The absence of a formal LOTO procedure causes confusion amongst work groups and has the potential for endangering employees.

Action: Traction Power Maintenance is mitigating risks associated with LOTO tasks through initiatives, including a mandatory High Voltage NFPA refresher in June which focused on working around energized equipment. In addition, TRPM will implement the following:

- Develop a standardized LOTO procedure, which will include proper personal protective equipment (PPE) required, radio communication requirements, personal responsibilities, and other applicable rules.
Completion date: 9-18-17
- Upon completion of the new LOTO procedure, all TRPM employees will be trained and provided a copy. Completion date: 11-28-17
- Instituted a 14-week training program to include Electrical Safety for Traction Power.
Completion 8-7-17

Responsible party: Mike Hass, RAIL

Completion Date: 11/28/17

Employee Concern: Failure to follow communication procedures for blocking/clamping during recertification

While the practice of recertification is common, it is important that complacency is not demonstrated. WMATA policies and procedures should be followed by both the instructor and the student during any certification.

Action: There will be a reminder disseminated to all certification instructors and train operators regarding the proper procedures during recertification.

Responsible party: Ron Lewis

Completion Date: TBD

CONFIDENTIAL CLOSE CALL

KEEP REPORTING... WE ARE LISTENING!

Employee Concern: Air quality in select station kiosks

In 2009, WMATA completed system-wide tunnel dust sampling, where total airborne dusts and respirable dust and metals were reported below OSHA Permissible Exposure Limits (PELs). Since the system-wide report, MetroRail operations have not significantly changed.

Actions: SAFE/EMIH will have URS Corporation perform air sampling in compliance with OSHA requirements on kiosks level, platform level, and end gate locations. They will assess the concentration of airborne dust and metals, and potential exposures to total and respirable dust and metals. These test will be conducted during the morning or evening rush hour time frames to capture the worst-case scenario. Testing is tentatively scheduled for July 31st-September 8th at Dunn Loring, Pentagon, Pentagon City, Crystal City, Foggy Bottom, DuPont Circle, Metro Center, Union Station, Navy Yard, Bethesda, Capitol South, and Georgia Ave-Petworth.

Responsible party: Doug Connett, SAFE

Completion Date: 11/17/17

Employee Concern: Leaking diesel emission fluid causing build-up

Diesel emission fluid is a highly corrosive new product in the industry. When exposed to air the fluid will crystalized and can cause build-up. Upon examination of the leakage Bus Maintenance and Environmental believes the leakage may be caused by the corrosion of pipes.

Actions: As an immediate mitigation to stop the leakage, BMNT placed absorbent pads around the affected area to soak up the fluid. In addition, SAFE and BMNT will collaborate with contractors specializing in diesel emission fluid to examine the corrosion of pipes and recommend solutions to resolve the issue.

Responsible party: Raquelle Gilbert, SAFE
Bruce Hobbs, SMNT

Completion Date: TBD
